INDIVIDUAL TAX RETURN ENGAGEMENT LETTER

We appreciate the opportunity to work with you. The Internal Revenue Service imposes penalties upon taxpayers and tax return preparers for failure to observe due care in reporting for income tax returns. This letter is to specify the terms of our engagement, clarify the nature and extent of the services we will provide, and confirm an understanding of our mutual responsibilities.

We will prepare your 2017 federal income tax return and, if appropriate, your 2018 federal estimated tax vouchers. You are responsible for providing true, correct and complete information about your tax matters. We will make no audit or other verification of the data you submit, although we may need to ask you for clarification of some of the information. We will furnish you with organizers to guide you in gathering the necessary information. Your use of such forms will assist in keeping pertinent information from being overlooked and keep our fee to a minimum. Please advise us of any state tax returns you are required to file and provide all the information necessary to prepare state/local tax returns.

You represent that the information you are supplying is accurate and complete to the best of your knowledge and that records as required by law support your expenses for meals, entertainment, travel, business gifts, charitable contributions, dues and memberships, and vehicle use. You should retain all documents, cancelled checks and other data that form the basis of income and deductions. All original client documents will be returned to you. It is your responsibility to retain and protect your records for possible future use, including any potential examinations by any governmental or regulatory agency. If you have any questions as to the type of records required, please ask for advice. We will rely, without further verification, upon information you provide to us and information provided from third parties including, but not limited to, W2s, K1s, 1099s, and 1098s and other similar documentation. We will rely on your answers and any forms you may have received regarding mandatory health insurance coverage and other related information for you, your spouse and dependents under the Affordable Care Act (ACA). You have final responsibility for your income tax return(s) and, therefore, you should carefully review your return(s) before you sign and file.

Our work in connection with the preparation of your income tax returns does not include any procedures designed to discover fraud, thefts, or other irregularities, should any exist. We will contact you if during the engagement we become aware of any such material errors. We will render such accounting and bookkeeping assistance as we find necessary for the preparation of your income tax returns. We will use our judgment to resolve questions in your favor where a tax law is unclear if there is reasonable justification for doing so. Whenever we are aware that a possible applicable tax law is unclear or that there are conflicting interpretations of the law by authorities (ie. IRS or Courts), we will explain the possible positions that may be taken on your return. We will follow whatever position you request, so long as it is consistent with the current codes and regulations and their interpretations. If the IRS or state tax authorities should later contest the position taken, there may be an assessment of additional tax, interest and penalties. We assume no liability for any such additional tax, interest, and penalties or other fees and assessments. When a self-employed taxpayer reduces taxable income by electing accelerated depreciation (Sec 179) there is a reduction in earned income reported to the Social Security Administration, which could reduce current and future benefits for the taxpayer and his or her dependents. You acknowledge understanding and agree to current tax reduction elections and the potential negative effects on future social security benefits for you, your spouse and any dependents.

This engagement does not include responding to inquiries by any governmental agency or tax authority. If your return is selected for examination or audit, you may request that we assist you in responding to such inquiry. Any items that may be resolved against you by the examining agent are subject to certain rights of appeal. However, our fees for preparing your tax returns do not include representing you in the case of an examination of your tax return or responding to any other inquiry regarding your tax return.

Privacy laws established by the IRS prohibit us from providing confidential information or copies to anyone other than you without your specific written authorization. To comply with these regulations a copy of your tax return will be accessible in a secure web portal. Your access to the portal will be terminated and all information within your portal will be deleted 30 days after any notification of termination of services. Our office can assist you in accessing your tax return from the portal. At times we may communicate with you or third parties (at your direction) by fax, email or by web portal and these communications may include confidential information. While we use our best efforts to keep such communications secure in accordance with our obligations under applicable laws and professional standards, you recognize and accept that we have no control over the unauthorized interception of these communications once they have been sent.

In order to comply with rules regarding privacy we are no longer able to give refund amounts or amounts due on the telephone or by email. Please pick up your tax return as soon as possible after notification of its completion to access this information.

It is our policy to retain tax returns and related documents for a period of seven years, after which time we will commence the process of destroying the contents of our files. If you no longer use our services we will destroy your records after a period of three years.

Our fees for services will be based upon our standard billing rates plus any out-of-pocket expenses incurred. All invoices will be due and payable upon completion of your tax return unless other arrangements are made. Fees charged for tax preparation do not include tax planning or responding to IRS inquiries. Please indicate on the organizer that you would like to direct deposit your refund and provide your banking information. If your return has been completed and processed there will be an additional charge to change your return.

We are required to file your return electronically with the Internal Revenue Service. You must review your tax return and sign IRS Form 8879 before we can electronically transmit your return to the IRS. Both taxpayers must sign a jointly filed tax return. We are not responsible for the length of time it takes the IRS to process your return. You may prefer to mail your return and if so, please discuss this with your preparer at your tax interview or let our personnel know when you drop off your tax return information so all necessary documentation can be obtained.

If an extension to file is requested, any tax due must be paid with the extension. It is your responsibility to determine the amount to be sent with your extension. Any amounts not paid by April 17, 2018 will be subject to interest and late payment penalties. Please note that tax returns whose information is received too closely to the filing deadline most likely will have to be extended. It is your responsibility to make your quarterly estimated tax payments for the current year even if your tax return for the prior year is extended.

We appreciate the opportunity to be of service to you. Please sign and date this engagement letter. We will begin the preparation of your return after we have a signed engagement letter.
